Aboriginal people's problems with alcohol began with invasion. Contrary to public perception, fewer Aboriginal people drink alcohol than non-Aboriginal people do. Media portray habits of a few, reinforce stereotypes and ignore efforts by communities to get dry. If you've ever had a near death experience (NDE) or tried astral projection, you may have seen the silver cord. The silver cord is often referred to as the "life thread" because it supplies energy to the physical body. 19th century gastronome Jean-Anthelme Brillat-Savarin observed "Tell me what you eat, and I will tell you who you are." Indeed, there is no better measure of personal taste than the food one eats.
